

Revision

EXAMS

Examination preparation including revision of all content in the A Level course and opportunity to refine examination technique

Beliefs in Society

An analysis of ideology, science and religion in society including consideration of religious beliefs and practices, types of religious organisations and the significance of religion in contemporary society

Crime and Deviance

An in-depth study into crime in the UK with a particular focus on the social distribution of crime (by ethnicity, gender and social class) and sociological explanations for these patterns.

Family and Households

Research methods and Sociological Theory

Year 13

A consideration of the role of education in contemporary society, including a critical analysis of the relationships and processes in schools that can impact the achievement of different social groups.

A sociological analysis of the role of the family in society. Includes consideration of changing patterns of marriage, family diversity, childhood and gender roles within the family.

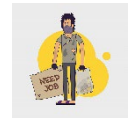

This will involve learning all about each Sociological perspective in detail, finding out if Sociology should be seen as a Science and diving in deeper looking at all the research methods and their links to education and other topics.

Revision

EXAMS

Stratification

Year 12

Examination preparation including revision of all content in the GCSE course and opportunity to refine examination technique

An analysis of inequality in the UK including the life chances different social groups have, poverty in the UK and the impact of power, politics and authority on social stratification.

Family and Households

An exploration of methods of social control in the UK as well as explanations for patterns of crime according to social group (social class, ethnicity, gender and age) and the impact of the media on crime

Year 11

Consideration of the different roles education plays in society. This will include explaining processes in school such as labelling, and the differences in educational achievement by social group.

Sociological explanations of the functions of the family in contemporary society. This will include consideration of relationships and roles in the family, family diversity and the dark side of the family.

You will learn different types of methods available to use and why certain researchers would choose them.

An introduction to key sociological concepts such as socialisation, culture, norms and values. You will identify the key sociological theories and their perspective on society.

Crime and Deviance

Year 10

Education

Research Methods

Introduction to Sociology

Education

Education